

CLUBS BATTLE DAILY GAS FIGHT

Many Expected At Federation of Associations Saturday Night Meeting.

PRESIDENT CLAYTON ISSUES INVITATIONS

Non-Affiliated Societies Will Be Made Acquainted With Organization's Laws.

Indications today are that practically every citizen's association eligible to membership in the federation of associations will be represented at Saturday night's meeting called for the purpose of considering the gas legislation pending in Congress and the universal transfer bill.

Seventeen of the largest associations in Washington belong to the federation, and will be entitled to vote. Representatives of all other associations eligible to membership have been invited to attend and participate in the debate.

Invitations Issued.

President Clayton today sent special invitations to the presidents of all associations to take part in the proceedings.

It is believed that upon the showing made concerning the ability of the federation to bring out a representative expression from the citizens of the District upon matters affecting their welfare, a general desire will be created to affiliate with the federation and take part in its future deliberations.

For the purpose of showing the objects of the federation and the requirements for membership, officers of the amalgamated bodies will be present to acquaint the unaffiliated bodies with its constitution.

Constitution of Federation.

The constitution of the Federation of Citizens' Associations is as follows:

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

This organization shall be known as the Federation of Citizens' Associations of the District of Columbia.

ARTICLE II.

OBJECT AND JURISDICTION.

Section 1. The object and purpose of this federation are to obtain the expression of representative public sentiment and secure united representative action of all eligible civic associations and societies of white citizens of the National Capital, by their accredited delegates, on all questions of a general character relating to and affecting the growth, welfare, and beauty of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 2. The jurisdiction of the federation is the consideration of and action upon those general questions which involve the District of Columbia at large, and which require concerted representative action as an expression of the public sentiment; all matters relating to particular localities or communities in the District of Columbia, in contradistinction to those matters affecting the District of Columbia at large, are properly cognizable by the local organizations representing such localities and communities, for the treatment of which matters the local organizations shall be considered the proper bodies to dispose of the same, and this federation will decline to consider such purely local matters.

ARTICLE III.

REPRESENTATION.

Section 1.—This federation shall be composed of one delegate and one alternate from each regularly formed association or society holding regular stated meetings, whose object, as shown by its constitution and by-laws, is the advancement of the local and general interests of the District of Columbia.

Sec. 2.—In the absence of the delegate from any regular meeting the alternate, if present, shall represent his organization or society.

Sec. 3.—No organization of a purely social, political, or sectarian nature shall be eligible to membership in this federation.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

The officers shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, whose duties shall be such as usually pertain to their respective offices.

ARTICLE V.

ELECTIONS.

The election of officers shall be by ballot at the annual meeting, and they shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE VI.

MEETINGS.

Section 1.—The regular meetings of this federation shall be held on the first Saturday of November, December, January, February, March, April, and May, and the November meeting shall be the annual meeting.

Sec. 2.—Special meetings may be called by the president or called upon a written request signed by five delegates, and notice of said meetings shall state the subject or subjects to be considered and acted upon.

Sec. 3.—A quorum shall consist of not less than 25 per centum of the accredited delegates as shown by the official records of the federation.

ARTICLE VII.

DUES.

The annual dues of each accredited association shall be ten dollars, payable at the annual meeting, or within sixty days thereafter under penalty of suspension until paid.

ARTICLE VIII.

AMENDMENTS.

This constitution may be altered, or amended, by a two-thirds vote of all the members present at any regular meeting, provided, however, that written notice rectifying the proposed amendments shall have been given at the previous regular meeting, and the secretary, at least two weeks before the meeting at which notice of the proposed changes shall have been given, shall have notified each delegate, in writing, as to the changes proposed.

The program comprised twenty-two numbers. Encores were numerous. Mr. Starnell was assisted by Miss Lillian Lewis, soprano; John Mitchell Waters, bass; and John Mitchell Waters, tenor. Those who took part were Miss Frances Armstrong, Miss Ruth Olinger, Miss Annette Javins, Miss Mary Renshaw, Miss Esther Armstrong, Miss Madeline Stone, Miss Stone, Miss Annie Olinger, Miss Marian Wright, Miss Katherine Apperson, Miss Lydia Adamson, Miss Mildred Miller, Harry Adamson, Charles Paine, Carroll Stone, Donald Soneman, and Raymond Schaffer.

What Congress Did IN THE SENATE.

Senator La Follette again spoke on the railroad bill, supporting the Cummins amendment and criticizing various features of the bill.

The Committee on Manufactures heard witnesses on the cold storage bill. Subcommittee of judiciary takes further testimony in the cases of Sutherland and Boyce, discharged Alaska officials.

UNIONS DEGRADING, SAYS DR. ELIOT

BOSTON, Mass., May 26.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, and one of the foremost educators in the world, believes that labor unions degrade human character, by labor unions. He declared that the regulation of output, as demanded by labor organizations, illustrated that labor unions, by virtue of such practices, inevitably deteriorated and degraded human character.

GROWING CHILDREN The Period when the Nervous Activity is at Its Greatest.

"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children, we cannot speak too strongly. Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is ever busy receiving new impressions. Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles, and the special senses are all under a special course of training.

"The nervous system is pushed to its utmost capacity, and long is the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In these little people nothing but harm can come from the use of such cerebral stimulants as tea or coffee. Bad, then, as this practice is, let us as physicians be aggressive in its prohibition.

"Do not be satisfied by answering 'No' when asked as to their use, but let us teach the families with whom we come in contact that such practice is evil. We speak emphatically, because not only among the rich, but among the poor, this practice is so prevalent, that it is marvellously prevalent."—The Home Doctor.

Children like a warm beverage for breakfast, and it is well for them to have it if the drink is a food and not a drug. Postum is made to supply a rich nourishing liquid food with a crisp coffee taste for those who cannot and should not use coffee. Analysis shows it to contain about fourteen per cent of muscle-forming elements and 66.11 per cent of energy and fat-producing elements, which go to nourish and sustain the delicate nerve centers throughout the body and which form the vital energy centers.

The success of child or adult depends largely upon proper sustenance for the body. Children who depend upon the intelligence of their elders to furnish them with good food deserve our most careful attention and thought.

ALASKA OFFICIALS ARE UNDER FIRE

Bribery Charges Preferred Before Subcommittee Making Inquiry.

ACTS ARE DEFENDED OF DISMISSED MEN

Removed While Working for Prosecution of Syndicate Officers, Is Allegation.

Allegations that are sensational in the extreme with respect to the corruption of officials and jurors in Alaska, are being made before the subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is investigating the charges against K. L. Faulkner, United States marshal, and John Rustgard, United States attorney, of the Juneau district. That the two will be torn off Alaskan matters in this investigation in a manner similar to its removal in the Balinger-Pinchot removal, is a possibility. Recently, Daniel A. Sutherland, was summarily removed from the marshalship and John J. Boyce from the attorneyship, and their places given to Faulkner and Rustgard. It is charged that the influence of the Guggenheim Syndicate, which has enormous interests in Alaska, caused the removals.

Hold Second Meeting.

The subcommittee which is investigating the charges against Faulkner and Rustgard, consisting of Senators Nelson, Borah, and Overman, was in session today, this being its second meeting. At a recent meeting, Delegate Wickensham of Alaska testified. Sutherland and Boyce also appeared, and one Douglas, a former auditor for the Guggenheim interests, was a witness.

Light was thrown today on some of the statements made by Wickensham. Boyce, and Sutherland to the subcommittee, which has been meeting behind closed doors.

It is alleged that Sutherland and Boyce were removed on false and secured information furnished by the attorneys and lobbyists for the Alaska Syndicate Katala Company, for the purpose of preventing these two officials from securing the indictment and conviction of a number of men high up in the employ of the Guggenheim interests for bribery and corruption of witnesses and jurors in the United States vs. Ed C. Hasey, on trial for shooting one Klinehart.

Origin of Controversy.

It is alleged Hasey did the shooting in a row over railroad right of way at the instance of men higher up in the councils of the syndicate. Gov. Walter E. Clark, of Alaska, is drawn into the controversy, and is alleged to have aided the attorneys of the Guggenheim interests in securing removal of the officials, Sutherland and Boyce. The men whose indictment Sutherland and Boyce were seeking, the subcommittee has been told, are Captain Jarvie, treasurer of the Alaska Syndicate Katala Company; General Counsel Bogli, of the Alaska syndicate at Seattle; Carson & Lyons, attorneys for the Alaska syndicate in the defense of Hasey.

National Committeeman L. P. Shackelford, one of the attorneys for the Alaska Syndicate in the Hasey case, and former Governor of Alaska, also charged before the subcommittee with having made allegations against Sutherland and Boyce, which were wrongful and misleading.

Charges Sensational.

It has been charged before the subcommittee that Sutherland and Boyce had their official heads cut off with no opportunity to defend.

In the defense of Hasey, the subcommittee is told, $75,000 has been spent by the Alaska Syndicate.

It is charged that Hoggart, Shackelford, and a half a dozen others have lobbied in Washington this winter seeking to secure the control of the appointments in the Department of Justice in aid of their corporate interests. The subcommittee has been told that they found they could not manage it and they have brought Governor Clark to Washington to aid them.

Objection has been made to the subcommittee that Sutherland and Boyce, attorney at Juneau, will have control for the Government of the litigation arising out of the case.

Other Allegations.

Faulkner, it is objected, as marshal, will have the selection of jurors in any case brought on indictment for the trial of any persons charged with bribery and corruption of witnesses in the Hasey case or on the trial of litigation over the Cunningham or other coal claims in the Juneau district, where the Alaska Syndicate is interested. It is asserted to the subcommittee that he is under obligations to the Alaska Syndicate, its attorneys and lobbyists, for his appointment.

It is alleged Faulkner is not a citizen of the United States, having been born in Nova Scotia. One of the statements made to the subcommittee is that E. T. Lyons, one of the Guggenheim attorneys in the Hasey case, has now been appointed district judge in Alaska and assigned to the Juneau district against vigorous protests.

The charge is made that part of $70,000 alleged to have been spent by the syndicate in the Hasey case was spent in the corruption of witnesses and jurors. The charge is also made that the syndicate is also imputed to the agents of the syndicate in the statements made to the committee by Delegates Wickensham and witnesses for Sutherland and Boyce.

WOMAN IS GIVEN THE THIRD DEGREE

Prisoner Suspected of Murder Forced to Remove Clothing.

BOSTON, May 26.—Stripping a woman of her clothing to search for evidence of a crime, was one of the third degree methods used by the Boston police, according to a statement reluctantly forced from Police Inspector Hurley today.

Hurley was one of the witnesses against Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond, accused of detaining Stewart McTavish in her home by stupefying him with drugs, afterward stabbing and beating him to death for his money and jewelry.

She was arrested July 19 on suspicion. After being subjected to various third degree methods without the police getting any damaging admissions from her, she was according to Inspector Hurley, taken into the office and stripped in the presence of the inspector and other detectives. Her clothing was taken from her and her body examined for blood stains.

The inspector's statement has created a sensation and charges are expected to be preferred against him.

CATHOLIC PRIEST WILL SUE BISHOP

Former Churchman Who Elected Says He Will Take Action.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 26.—Declaring that he will sue Bishop McPaul, of Trenton, for defamation of character, the Rev. Alphonse M. Consolazio, formerly rector of the Roman Catholic Church at Rocky Ford, near Princeton, who ran away from his parish several days ago with sixteen-year-old Katherine Johanneau, of Trenton, and married her here, today told in detail the events leading up to the elopement.

"I was driven out of the Catholic Church by Bishop McPaul, head of the diocese," declared the priest. "He made me marry Mrs. Consolazio to save his name, and if it had not been for him I would stay in the church. He was afraid of me, and took this method to drive me out of the church. I admit that I was seen very often with Katherine, and I understand that enemies of mine in the priesthood began the circulation of malicious rumors concerning us."

"These reached the ears of Bishop McPaul and he started an investigation. The trouble is that the investigation was not carried on to the end, and I demanded that the name of the girl be honorable in every sense. This was refused, and a scandal threatened. The good name of the girl was at stake. I pleaded for a fair and full investigation, but my plea fell on deaf ears. There was only one thing for me to do, for her sake and for my own. I did it, and now am very happy."

The couple after spending several more days here will leave for a honeymoon trip in Europe. Upon their return Mr. Consolazio will take up the practice of law.

MISS HARRIMAN MARRIES AT ARDEN

Becomes Bride of Sculptor Rumsey With Families Only Present.

ARDEN, N. Y., May 26.—Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, and Charles Cary Rumsey, sculptor, of Buffalo, were married at noon today at St. John's Episcopal Church. Only members of the immediate families of the bride and groom were present.

In order to insure the utmost privacy, Mrs. Harriman had the following notice posted outside the church this morning: "Notice. St. John's Church will be open to visitors at 1 p. m. Any one wishing to see the interior of the church can do so at that time. Positively no one allowed on the church grounds before 1 p. m."

This notice was also posted prominently at various points in the village and was strictly enforced. Uniformed men kept away from the church, but grounds. Not only were newspaper men kept away from the church, but the village folk.

Because of the ceremony the church had a new carpet. This is a matter for congratulation, as the weather-beaten old matting was badly frayed. The other interior adornments were few and simple, consisting of several stands of maiden hair fern and wild flowers gathered from the neighboring hills.

The most lavish decorations were in the church yard outside, where E. H. Harriman's grave was overlaid with a large cross of rhododendron leaves. Miss Carol Harriman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Lawrence D. Rumsey, brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Holmes McGuinness.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party drove to the Harriman mansion, where the wedding breakfast was served.

There will be a brief wedding trip, but it is understood that the greater part of the honeymoon will be spent at Arden, where the bride is the chief executive and will continue to act as such.

COLD STORAGE BILL IS PUT UNDER FIRE

Senate Committee of Manufacture Hears Opponents of Measure.

Further protests against the Lodge cold storage bill were heard today by the Senate Committee on Manufactures.

Objections came from the Fish Dealers' Association of New York, who contended that storage of fish improved the quality of the product rather than caused it to deteriorate. The plea was against tagging stored products and in favor of Federal inspection. The officers of the association said they invited rigid inspection so long as it did not prevent them from engaging in business at all. They said they want the Agricultural Department to have greater powers of inspection and regulation.

Additional information as to the time of storage on food products was given today. Fish could be kept indefinitely if frozen, they said, and in some cases had been kept for years. Eggs were seldom kept more than six months, and butter not more than one year. To keep food products for a long period, they said, would be too expensive. The storage charges would eat up the value of the product.

Frank H. Field, of New York, attorney for the association, and Frank E. Mack, a storage engineer, of New York, were on the witness stand. The hearings will be continued next week.
